

With a Father's Heart, With a Mother's Heart

Sunday April 15, 2018, young boy Emanuele

Wrap your arms around me, share with me your heart
Whisper to me deeply, the yearnings of your soul
For I am always with you, I am never far
My love is ever new, my love does not grow old

With a Father's heart, I will always love you!
With a Mother's heart, I will never leave you!
With a Father's heart, I call you home
With a Mother's heart, you are my own

When you wander far from me, when you lose your way
I will not forsake you, wherever you may go
I will seek you always, throughout the night and day
I will be there waiting, I will call you home
(Luke 15:11-32 the Lost Son)

I was always with you, before you first drew breath
I gently held your hand, and watched you grow in love
My heart will be still be with you, at the hour of your death
For I am with you always, I am God's love

© Andrew Chinn, 2018