

God Gave Me

God gave me eyes to see the wonders of the world
The joy of the sunrise, the creatures of the earth
To see the moon and stars, the colours of the rainbow
The smiles of my family as I learn and grow

God gave me ears to hear the wonders of the world
The sounds of music, of whispers, shouts and words
To hear the roar of a lion, the lorikeet's sweet song
To hear a song of joy, so I can sing along

God gave me a nose to smell the wonders of the world
The sweet scent of roses, the fresh spring morning air
The smell of the ocean, the summer's salty sea
The scents of the seasons, the smell of a Christmas tree

God gave me skin to feel the wonders of the world
When I hold a hand or pat a kitten's fur
The sun on my face, the wind blowing through my hair
To share a hug, to show I really care

God gave me a tongue to taste the wonders of the world
Oranges, apples, mangoes and juicy pears
A cool drink of water on a very hot summer's day
For all our senses, we give thanks and praise!
